Committed to continuous learning and growth, ready to contribute effectively to dynamic development teams and tackle new challenges in software engineering.

EXPERIENCE

Infosys

June 2022 - PRESENT

Digital Specialist Engineer

- Developed scalable web applications utilizing Spring Boot framework, implementing microservices architecture for efficient handling of complex business logic.
- Implemented Hexagonal Architecture patterns to ensure modular and maintainable codebase, enhancing the flexibility and extensibility of the applications.
- Proficient in front-end development using Angular and React frameworks, delivering intuitive user interfaces and seamless user experiences.
- Designed and implemented RESTful APIs to facilitate seamless communication between server and client applications, adhering to industry best practices and standards.
- Utilized GitHub for version control and collaboration, effectively managing code repositories, reviewing code changes, and ensuring smooth workflow within development teams.
- Demonstrated expertise in troubleshooting and debugging complex software issues, ensuring high reliability and performance of applications in production environments.

Cognizant

Jan 2022 - May 2022

Programmer Analyst Trainee

- Assisted in the development and maintenance of data warehousing solutions, gaining practical experience in data extraction, transformation, and loading (ETL) processes using industry-standard tools and methodologies.
- Utilized relational database management systems (RDBMS) such as MySQL or PostgreSQL to design, create, and optimize database schemas, ensuring data integrity and efficient query performance.
- Collaborated with frontend development teams to translate design mockups into interactive and responsive user interfaces, employing HTML, CSS, and JavaScript technologies to deliver seamless user experiences.
- Supported backend development efforts by assisting in API development, database connectivity, and business logic implementation, contributing to the end-to-end development and deployment of web-based applications.
