PROJECTS

Password doorlock

- In the project, we propose a design Password door lock Which people can use for in real time for childrens. It is mainly used in home.

Contactless temperature sensor

- With the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic in early 2020, there was a pressing need for simple yet effective remote monitoring solutions. In this paper, we describe a low-cost device developed for monitoring COVID-19 patients. Our project deals with the object temperature along with the room temperature. Another advantage of contactless temperature is, we can use this contactless temperature in cold storage, which protects our crop. To check whether the crop is in the correct temperature

Honeywell PSCMR (College) CRM

- The “Honeywell PSCMR CRM” is a Salesforce Customer Relationship management app where students, faculty, HR Team, Companies can access the data. In PSCMR CRM, we store our data in the form of objects and records by which we can apply the respective operations to fetch the data.
